

I am on the DNC list and I still get a few calls slipping through. But we used to get on average 10 calls a day from companies we had no relationship with. They would call from 8am to 9 pm and 99% of these companies you can't understand the person on the other end or they won't take No for an answer. It was to a point where I would not answer my phone. I would let the machine get it and pick up if it was someone I knew. Now I hear they want to call cell phones. I am completely against that because we pay for incoming calls.